CY9C ST. PAUL ISLAND DXPEDITION NEWS (Update, dated June 29th). [edited] This morning the helicopter scheduled to fly today from New York to Nova Scotia needed to turn back to base at early start of flight due to an instrument failure. A replacement part is in process and the flight the will be delayed until tomorrow morning (Tuesday, 30 July). This will possibly delay the full operational setup on the island by one day. However, every effort will be to begin operations as soon as possible, perhaps with a partial setup on Wednesday (31 July).... 73, Randy N0TG

ADDED NOTE: Remember, donations in any amount can still be made via Web site at (http://www.CY9C.com). QSL confirmation for donors will be automatic with no other action required (of course must work us and be in the log).....
